Guidelines

Recognized student organizations can use this guide to order food and supplies for meetings and programs—and save money at the same time!

This guide has been divided into two sections: No Frills and Meal Exchanges. It's easy to order—just follow these simple steps:

- 1) Order your No Frills or Meal Exchange items through Event Scheduling online, as you would any other catering event.
- 2) Be sure to include your budget number and remember that all student groups must include the name of a faculty advisor responsible for the bills.
- 3) These prices are based on your group's ability to pick up, set up, and clean up after your event. Your group is also responsible for the return of any borrowed items.

Everyone on our staff is committed to providing your group with the highest quality food and service. We look forward to helping you plan an exceptional event!
